S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say: "I have always considered advertising to be the great medium of success in life, the prelude to wealth. And I have made it a rule to advertise in dull times as well as in good times, experience having taught me that money will laid out, as by continually keeping one's name before the public it has secured many sales that would have lost."

OREGON.

Ex Congressman J. H Slater has arrived at his home in La Grande.

Town lots in Corinne, facing the Utah Northern Railroad depot, command a value of $75 per front foot.

The Corvallis Gazette issued an extra last Saturday, containing a full account of the burning of the City Hotel.

In consequence of the epizootic, the mail service from La Grande to Kelton has been reduced from daily to tri-weekly.

Twenty two marriage licenses have been issued and 185 deeds recorded by the County Clerk of Marion county since January 1, 1873.

Wheat has raised in La Grande to $1 25@1 50 per bushel, and flour to $6 per barrel, with prospects of a further rise before harvest.

The Mountain Sentinel claims that Union county has more fine and thoroughbred stock than any other three counties in the State combined.

Fifty seven soldiers under command of Col. Sanford, from Fort Lapwai en route to Camp Harney, passed through La Grande on Tuesday of last week.

The safe in the City Hotel burned at Corvallis last Saturday, did not prove itself entirely fire-proof, as when it was opened everything inside was found to be badly damaged.

Rev. Mr. Wells of the Episcopal Church, has been holding services at different points in Union county, and a number of persons have been baptized into the faith of that denomination by him.

The Mountain Sentinel comes to us this week somewhat enlarged in size, but containing no more news than usual, as all the matter contained on two pages is printed before the paper leaves Chicago.

The Salem postmaster has issued 7,620 orders under the Money Order system. Six hundred and fifty eight of these, for an aggregate amount of $11,007, have been issued during the past three months.

The policemen of Salem are required to keep the city lamps clean and to light them. What would Chief Lappens and his "boys" in the natty blue and brass buttons think of such an ordinance in Portland?

The use of the Legislative Hall at Salem has been secured for the Farmers' State Convention, to meet on the 10th inst. Both the companies running boats on the Upper Willamet will carry delegates free of charge.

Sheriff Scott, of Marion county, recently collected over $70,000 for 1872. During the month of March he collected $25,000. This is the largest amount that has ever been collected by a Sheriff of the county. About $20,000 remains yet unpaid. The books will be closed next Monday.

The man John Murray, who perished in the ruins of the Corvallis hotel, was an Irishman, aged sixty five, and leaves a wife and five children. The family now reside on a farm near Junction City. One of his daughters was wife of Mr. McConnell, proprietor of the hotel.

The Statesman says: A man by the name of C. Masher was arrested near Gervais, a few days since, on a charge of incendiarism. He was held to appear at the next term of court under $500 bonds, and failing to get the required signatures, was committed to jail. He finally found a bondsman and was set at liberty.

The Sentinel's Baker county correspondent says: "The Malheur and Burnt river Consolidated Ditch and Mining Company, commonly known as the Chicago Company, are now employing a number of men for the purpose of cleaning out the ditch and mending up whatever breaks that may occur along the line during the coming summer."

The farmers in the vicinity of Aumsville, Marion county, held a meeting a few days since, and organized a Farmers' Club, to co-operate with similar organizations in the State. Mr. Sylvenus Condit was elected President, and Judge J. C. Peebles, Secretary. Delegates to the State Convention will be elected on next Saturday.

The mail stage, which was a two horse sleigh, upset near Meacham's, in the Blue Mountains, a few days ago, and threw some of the passengers, among whom were Capt. Myrick and Mrs. Harry Wood, of this city, into a stream of water about twenty inches deep. The weather was cold and the wet passengers experienced some inconvenience before reaching La Grand.

The La Grande Sentinel says. "All the business houses in Eldorado, Malheur and Amelia are now opened up, each receiving a fair share of patronage. The miners of those camps are evidently in the best of spirits in anticipation of the good times that await them in the near future. And well they may, for never before since those camps were first located has there been a brighter prospect before them than in the coming summer.

Horace G. Williams, a miner connected with Points & Co., at the Palouse mines, was found frozen to death on Christmas morning. He left the camp on the 17th of December for the purpose of going to a place where he could get a troublesome tooth drawn, and had returned within half a mile of home when he was found as above. He has relatives at St. Joseph, Michigan, where he formerly resided.

The Lewiston Signal says: Work at the Palouse mines commenced about the 1st of March, and mining is in full blast—with plenty of water and a fair prospect of its continuing three months. It is thought that no one can get in to the camp with horses before the middle of May. Vegetables are scarce, but the miners are cheerful and think beans are mighty good 21 times a week. The men in that camp haven't heard who was elected President yet, so completely have they been shut up this winter.

There is said to be a tightness in the Salt Lake money market, and several of the largest houses there are said to be anxious for an "extension."

A PLAN OF FEDERAL SPAIN.—A map of Spain, which represents the country divided into thirteen Confederate States, is being profusely circulated in the different Spanish cities. The States are divided in the following manner:

1. The State of Galicia, formed by the four Galician provinces.
2. The State of Castile-Leon, formed by the union of the Asturias and Old Castile.
3. The States of Burgos-Bantabro-Vasco-Navarre, formed by the provinces of Burgos, the three Basque provinces and Navarre.
4. The State of Aragon, comprising Aragon, Rioja and the province of Soria.
5. The State of Catalan.
6. The Valencia-Balearic State, comprising Valencia and the Balearic Isles.
7. The State of New Castile.
8. The State of Estramadura, formed by that province and those of La Mancha and Murcia.
9. The State of Oceanic Andalusia, comprising the Canary Isles and the provinces of Huelva, Seville, Cordova, and Cadiz.
10. The State of Mediterranean Andalusia, formed by the provinces of Malaga, Jaen, Granada and Almeria.
11. The State of Cuba.
12. The State of Porto Rico.
13. The State of the Philippines.

Curtis Withdraws from the Civil Service Board—His Reasons

NEW YORK, April 1.—"So day's Post reiterates on the personal authority of George W Curtis, that the latter has resigned his position as head of the Civil Service Board, because, as he considers, several important appointments recently made are violations and absolutions of civil service reform The Post, one of whose editors is a near editor and personal friend of Curtis, says it gives Curtis reasons in his own precise words, and proceeds to say that he resigns, not because of his recent illness, but because he thought that in making Federal appointments here and elsewhere, Grant had thrown civil service reform overboard, and that his (Curtis') usefulness as a member of that Commission is at an end

Carolus Septimus.

Matters in Spain grow more unpropitious every day, for the fortunes of the nascent Republic. The adherents of Don Carlos naturally become more numerous and pronounced as the feebleness of the Republic becomes more generally known; and on the other hand, the same cause brings discouragement and demoralization to the republicans. For some time the news from this quarter has been an unbroken series of announcements of successes achieved by the arms of the active and energetic young Prince, in some cases over forces considerably superior to his own. Don Carlos is evidently a man possessed of no mean abilities, and especially endowed with the faculty of organizing. A rebellion against the statu quo, with no small beginnings as this of his, could scarcely have maintained itself so long, and moved so steadily forward to its present position, without the guidance of a steady head and a skillful hand. The power that could thus make headway against the Government, when to all appearances the latter was enjoying the fullest confidence of the people, is likely to prove too great for the provisional arrangement forced upon Spain by the sudden abdication of Amadeus. The divided counsels of an experimental government ill-adapted at best to the wants of a people whose constitutional tendencies and traditional education are such as those of the Spanish people, cannot but increase greatly the Prince's chances of success. The government lies still in stupid bewilderment, or runs up and down the streets of Madrid crying, Viva la Republica! and asking for recognition from other powers, instead of rising to the light of the argument of events and showing itself worthy of recognition by some sort of definite and vigorous policy: meanwhile the rich districts of Barcelona, Lerida, Tarragona, Gerona and large portion of Aragon, with an aggregate population of over 2,000,000 souls, and embracing some of the finest cities of the entire peninsula, are falling into line under the banner of Carlos almost without a struggle. At this rate, a few more months of "masterly inactivity" at the capitol, will bring a summons to the republican statesmen to come forward and pay the accustomed homage to Charles VII. King of Spain.

One Justice Hardin, before whom was lately brought the suit of the People of the Commonwealth of New York against Ingersoll, Tweed, Connolly, and others, for the recovery of $6,000,000 alleged to have been stolen from the County of New York by what are known as the "audit frauds," has decided that the people of the Commonwealth have no right of action against the defendants. This opinion was given on the demurrer interposed by Ingersoll, and is said to be based "on the broad ground, fatal if sustained in the whole suit, that the County and not the State is the real party interested; within the meaning of the Code." And so it is that we are of the opinion that this gigantic villainy will go unrequited, and the perpetrators escape. Perhaps the Empire State has no penalty for theft, after all. If all these things prove true, let it be written that the people of New York do not only endure such larcenies with Spartan courage, but that they exalt stealing, as did the Spartans, to high rank among the cardinal virtues.

A New York Congressman, who has learned, perhaps, from an extended observation of Credit Mobilier that it is not prudent to let the left hand know what the right hand is doing in the National Treasury, and who therefore desires his name to be kept secret, has exchanged his warrant for five thousand dollars back-pay for its value in Government bonds, has cancelled the latter and ordered them returned to the United States Treasury. The N. Y. Evening Post says that General Hawley declines to touch the unclean thing. Hawley is one of the immortal few among the ninety-four that voted against the steal, who refused the extra pay.

That modest Congressman is rara avis in these days, and Hawley's unostentatious integrity will yet prove itself of greater value than the paltry sum for which so many of our representatives exchanged their patriotism.

The tender sympathy of the South American Republics for distressed Cuba is something worthy of commendation. They may be somewhat old-fashioned in their ideas of justice, but the remedy they propose possesses the cardinal merit of simplicity, at least. The circular of the Secretary of State of Bogota, which was addressed to all the governments of Central and South America, in September last, invites them to co-operate with Colombia and the United States of America in persuading Spain to recognize the independence of Cuba, and accept a sum of money which shall be agreed upon and contributed by the associated Republics. In the meantime the present war is to be humanized. It is said that this proposition meets with favor among the various governments referred to in the appeal.

A Paris dispatch of March 27th announces the death of M. Amadee Simon Dominique Thierry, the distinguished French historian, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. M. Thierry was a brother of the celebrated Jacques Nicolas Augustin Thierry, and was born at Blois, August 3d, 1796. Those of his numerous works which are best known, are the "History of Gaul under the Roman Empire," which was a supplement to his History of the Gauls, and the "History of Attila, of his Sons, and his Successors." He was for many years a contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes, and his historical essays, remarkable for their precision and terse vigor won for him a name among French authors second only to that of the illustrious Thiers.

Here is a specimen of Ben Butler's wit: "One of his constituents, having written to him complaining of heavy taxes, and condemning the salary steal, the General has made a computation from which he discovered that the $5,000 which he received, cost on an average each tax-payer of the country three cents. He therefore sent that amount to his correspondent, announcing his willingness to return to anyone else, who does not feel able to pay the increased taxes on account of the salary grab, the same amount."

Witty Ben! Shrewd Ben! It might be well for every voter in Massachusetts to take humorous Ben at his word. When the Essex statesman has paid off two or three hundred thousand voters, he might have some idea of the magnitude of the steal.

Alexander H. Stephens denies the report that he has retired from the editorship of the Atlanta Sun on account of his election to Congress. This intelligence must be gratifying to such as read Aleck's seven-column leaders.

The Oregon Railway Bonds.

Some days since the dispatches contained certain statements from the New York Tribune in regard to the Oregon and California railway complications. The full text of the dispatch, as we take it from the Sun Francisco Bulletin, is as follows:

NEW YORK, March 26th.

Ben Holladay's friends treat with levity the Tribune's announcement that proceedings were to be instituted against him as President of the California and Oregon Railroad, for alleged fraudulent representations in placing the Company's bonds. The Tribune says it is stated that the Oregon and California Railroad casted Dabney, Morgan & Co., of New York, and Speyhuch Brothers, of Frankfort, Germany, to negotiate $40,950,000 of its bonds at prices which netted the Company $6,500,000. President Holladay, it is further asserted, took the contract from this Company to build the railroad at the rate of about $30,000 a mile, on the proceeds of the sale of these bonds, and portions of the land grant mentioned below. He built 230 miles, leaving the most difficult and expensive portion of the line unfinished. It is further asserted that the winter storms have damaged the road very much, and that the receipts are not equal to the amount required for interest.

The bonds are quoted at 35 in the Berlin market, and at a recent meeting of the stockholders, a committee was appointed to begin proceedings against Holladay. The Company has land grants of 1,660,000 acres. No information is obtainable with regard to the finances of the Company. The rolling stock as known, consists of six locomotives, seven passenger cars, two baggage and mail cars, and one hundred freight cars. This is a very insignificant equipment for such an exhibition of bonds. Efforts made to see Holladay at his office elicited information that he was in Portland, Oregon. George K. Otis, his agent, is reported at Washington.

Drexel, Morgan & Co., successors of Dabney, Morgan & Co., said that they knew nothing of the matter, as their predecessors sold the bonds, while they themselves simply paid the interest on the bonds when the money was remitted them. If the money was not deposited with them they did not pay it. Yesterday morning, however, a sum arrived for that purpose.

Holladay's friends believe that these publications are distorted and stimulated by parties with whom he has litigation.

We know not how much or how little of truth there is in this dispatch. It is proper to state, however, that the explanation or denial published by authority of Mr. Holladay in the Portland Bulletin and in the San Francisco Call at the time the dispatch appeared here, does not touch the case as it is made out by the dispatch. That explanation only amounted to a statement that the interest payable in April on the bonds of the railway company have been provided for, and that no action could be commenced until there was a failure to pay the interest when due. The payment of interest has nothing whatever to do with the grounds of suit intimated in this dispatch. The cause of suit here disclosed, is independent of the interest money, and the suit, if maintainable at all, could be maintained as well when there was no interest due, as if default had been made in that respect.

This dispatch evidently understates the equipment of the road, while it overstates by about twenty miles the length of road built.

Here's another of the Dodge family making a fool of himself. It's Anson G. P. this time, and he's a renegade Yankee who resigned his citizenship in America to secure a seat in the Dominion Parliament. From the floor of that House he informs the gratified Canadians that "it is astonishing to see the unanimity of opinion in the city of New York in favor of constitutional monarchy and British institutions." Angus must have suffered in New York under the reign of Boss Tweed.

One of the most important railroad suits of this generation is now on trial at St. Albans, Vermont. It is brought against the managers and trustees of the Vermont Central and Vermont and Canada Railroads, and its issue involves the character of men of high social and political standing. The complaint alleges the misappropriation of $6,000,000, and there are twenty lawyers engaged in the prosecution of the suit, which is brought to secure the removal of the present management.

Dodds has got his name in the papers. The Cincinnati Times is after him. His name appears in huge black letters at convenient intervals through that sheet. It is almost superfluous to add that Dodds is a generic term for the average Congressman. He voted for the increase of salary, of course.

Delaware is not a paradise for censorious newspapers. We read that W. S. Prede, correspondent of the Wilmington Every Evening, was expelled from the House of Representatives by a large majority for criticising certain measures before the Legislature.

It is stated that ex-Senator Cattell, of New Jersey, has been appointed Financial Agent of the Treasury Department, to visit Europe on business connected with the new loan.

We acknowledge our obligations to Senator Mitchell for the "Congressional Record."

ABUSING THEIR LEGISLATURES.—There seems to be a singular sort of rivalry among the newspapers of the Northwest as to which shall say the worst things of its State Legislature. The Indianapolis Sentinel says the Indiana legislature is one of the most worthless bodies ever assembled in that State. Declaring that Indiana cannot beat Missouri in point of worthlessness, the St. Louis Democrat offers to "back the legislature now in session at Jefferson City against any similar body that has assembled in this country since the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus for stupidity, for uselessness, for depravity, and for all those qualities which convert honest men into rogues and sensible men into asses. The proud distinction cannot be wrested from Missouri by any of her sister States." Joining in this complimentary strain the Chicago Tribune says the Illinois law makers have been in session eleven weeks, and have passed only two bills, one of which was to enable the other to go into effect. If the standard of a good legislature is to pass the fewest bills, the Tribune thinks the present body, "with its solitary chicken, is the best one we have ever had."

A SERMON ON CREDIT MOBILIER.—Rev. Dr. Talmadge, of Brooklyn, preached a sermon lately on the Credit Mobilier business. The following is a specimen brick from his discourse: "On that Union Pacific Railroad many of your representatives took a through ticket to hell! They paid their fares in eighty per cent. dividend. They sold out political influence and honor, and Christian principle and their immortal souls, to Oakes Ames and the devil. But be careful, my friends, lest you smite the innocent with the guilty. I think the nation is on the track of some men who have not been proved guilty. I can't believe that men, after thirty years of integrity, amid temptations where they might have made a million of dollars, would now sell heaven for $4,200. A solid column of Oakes Ames reaching from Brooklyn to Washington, with uplifted hand in solemn oath, could not make me believe that Schuyler Colfax is a villain. Oh, my friends, when I took up the papers and saw that that pure, holy, pious, immaculate man, Fernando Wood, moved for the impeachment of Schuyler Colfax, I said 'The millennium is here!'"

A Roman ecclesiastic, in reply to whatever question might be proposed, used to begin by saying: "I make a distinction." A cardinal having invited him to dine, proposed to devise some amusement for the company from the well-known peculiarity of his guest. Saying to him that he had an important question to propose, he asked:

"Is it under any circumstances lawful to baptize in soup?"

"I make a distinction," said the priest. "If you ask, is it lawful to baptize in soup in general, I say 'No.' If you ask in it lawful to baptize in your excellency's soup, I say 'Yes,' for there is really no difference between it and water."

Elder Russ was next introduced by the Moderator and addressed the Convention at some length, on the best methods of teaching in Sunday School.

Mr. Castro, on invitation, came forward and addressed the Convention on the subject of "Duties and Qualifications of Sunday School Teachers."

British Premiers.

The recent resignation of office by Mr. Gladstone renders it interesting to recall the Premiers who have held office for the last 114 years. The Duke of Newcastle came into power April 5, 1754, and held office for 8 years and 52 days. The Earl of Bute took office May 29, 1762, and held it for 322 days. The administration of G. Gronville commenced April 16, 1763, and lasted for 2 years and 87 days. The Marquis of Rockingham took office July 12, 1765, and held it for one year and 21 days. The administration of the Duke of Grafton, which commenced August 2, 1766, lasted 3 years and 179 days. The administration of Lord North was one of unusual duration, commencing January 28, 1770, and lasting 12 years and 34 days. The Marquis of Rockingham again came into power, March 3, 1781, and held it 132 days. He was succeeded July 13 1782, by the Earl of Shelborne, whose term of power was 266 days. The next Premier was the Duke of Portland, who came into power April 5, 1783, and remained in office 260 days. Then came a very long Administration, that of Mr. Pitt, who came into power December 28, 1783, and held office for 17 years and 80 days. Mr. Pitt was succeeded March 17, 1801, by Lord Sidmouth, who remained in office 3 years and 55 days. Then came the second Pitt Administration, commencing May 12, 1804, and lasting one year and 246 days. Lord Grenville took office January 8, 1806, and held it for one year and 64 days. Duke of Portland again became Premier March 13, 1807, remained in office 3 years and 102 days. He was succeeded June 28, 1810, by Spencer Perceval, whose term of power extended over one year and 350 days. The Earl of Liverpool's administration, which commenced June 8, 1812, was a very long one, lasting 14 years and 307 days. Mr. Canning succeeded Lord Liverpool April 11, 1827, but only remained in office 121 days. Next administration was that of the Duke of Wellington, which commenced Jan. 25, 1828, and lasted two years and 301 days.

Earl Grey commenced his administration November 22, 1830, and continued in power three years and 231 days. Lord Melbourne assumed the reins of government July 11, 1834, but only held them 128 days. Then came the second administration of the Duke of Wellington, which commenced November 16, 1834, but only lasted 22 days. Sir Robert Peel took office December 8, 1834, but only remained in power 131 days. The second administration of Lord Melbourne, which commenced April 18, 1835, lasted six years and 138 days. Sir Robert Peel took office a second time September 3, 1841, and held it for four years and 97 days. Then Lord John Russell was sent for, December 10, 1845, but his Lordship only held office for 10 days. Sir Robert Peel returned to power December 20, 1845, and remained in office 188 days. The second administration of Lord John Russell, which commenced June 26, 1846, lasted five years and 239 days.

The Earl of Derby came into office February 22, 1852, and held it 300 days. The administration of the Earl of Aberdeen, which commenced December 10, 1852, lasted two years and forty-five days. The first administration of Lord Palmerston, which commenced February 5, 1855, lasted three years and seventeen days. The second administration commenced February 21, 1858, and lasted one year and 111 days. Then came Lord Palmerston's second administration, which, commencing June 30, 1859, lasted six years and 128 days. On the death of Lord Palmerston, Earl Russell became Premier for the third time, but his Lordship only held office on this occasion 240 days. The Earl of Derby's third tenure of power commenced June 27, 1866, and terminated after the lapse of one year and 211 days.

A New York dispatch of March 26th says:

It will be recollected that some months since the claim of Admiral Farragut, and his officers and men, for prize money for destruction of rebel vessels at the capture of New Orleans during the rebellion was referred to the arbitration of H. W. Payne, of Boston, N. V. Fox, formerly Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and Thomas Durant of this city. On Friday the arbitrators filed a report awarding the sum of $260,000. They found that on the rebel vessels there were 1,343 men, and they allow a claim of $300 for each man engaged on the enemy's boats.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. give us more business than any other. CITY.

WINDY ENOUGH.—While the knowledge of the oldest inhabitant is more terrific gale hardly ever visited the city than was experienced yesterday from 10 o'clock A M to 3 P M Horses fairly turned himself loose and played particular shanties generally The way that imaginary god of the windy element went for loose things was a caution to snakes The floor pitched and tossed to the manifest danger of skilful yards and scows which surged like frantic spirits at their moorings Even Commissioner Burke's staunch little sloop the Hope narrowly escaped being swamped Hats and umbrellas were objects of particular spite with the wind The former were sent spinning around the block in numbers too great to express with ciphers and the latter were reduced in texture to lace turned inside out in the twinkling of an optic Among the large signs Boreas made things remarkably live by and sent more than one lifting to the ground The large attractive sign of J B Congle on Front street did not escape the breath of this full grown zephyr Scarcely had the gale touched its canvas sides than it was lifted up torn rudely from its iron fastenings and hurled to the street below reducing frame and all to a complete wreck Several other large signs up and down the streets were carried away some broken to pieces and all more or less damaged In one of its playful freaks the capricious cyclone of an up town express wagon was crushed to smithereen and carried the distance of a block before the astonished driver had time to stop his team After playing about boisterously for some hours the rantankerous god quieted down his nerves and concluded to administer vengeance to the average Webfoot in milder doses However the day wasn't mild enough to hurt anybody

MEETING OF CITY RIFLES.—This new military company held a meeting at the United States grand jury room The principal object was to make arrangements for a suitable armory in which the company can meet, and also to take some steps toward obtaining an appropriate uniform A committee on ways and means was appointed to make arrangements for an armory consisting of the following persons Wm J Quirk H D Chapman, Wm A Hart, Wm T Webber Julius Jansen, James Birmingham Capt Alex Campbell and Chas Dexter A Committee on Uniforms was also appointed consisting of Julius Jansen, C C Philips M J Quirk, Capt Alex Campbell and Chas Dexter This new military organization is in a very flourishing condition, and now number about seventy members in all Sixteen new members were added to the company last evening The company includes in its membership as fine a set of young fellows as we have had the pleasure of seeing for some time, and bids fair to be one of the first companies of the city We learn that the City Rifles propose to give, at an early day a concert, ball or some other favor like entertainment to raise funds to defray some of the necessary expenses Our citizens ought to foster and encourage by every reasonable means in their power a martial spirit among the young men of Portland

RAN OFF.—While the gale was at its highest yesterday, a large sign belonging to J B Congle on Front street, was carried away, and the fragments hurled to the street A horse attached to a dray was standing near the corner of Stark and Front streets, when the sign came down with a thundering crash Doubtless the animal thought a shower of canvas and plank was not conducive to a sound orsolum or spiderma, and so he bolted off down street The dray was somewhat damaged by the shock in addition to being thus shot the animal made good time A cloud of witnesses lined the sidewalk to witness the fun, but the horse heeded nothing but flew over faster than the wind The boxes tumbled out and the scared horse did not pause in his flight until the lower part of the city was reached No damage done but muddy boxes and a badly demoralized custan

PERILOUS POSITION.—While the gale yesterday was at its height, and the river was more tempestous than has been known for many years, two men were observed on a small raft of logs—not more than five or six fastened together The raft was about the middle of the stream, drifting down very rapidly So extremely rough was the water, that the men found great difficulty in keeping on their feet, while at every plunge the raft gave, the water ran over the top nearly to the knees of the raftsmen Where these venturesome fellows came from or whither bound, is not known, even to the wisest. They did not appear to fully realize the perils of their situation No signal of distress was made to those on shore, and in a few moments raft and men had passed from sight.

BELL ARRIVED.—A San Francisco exchange says "The steamer Montana on her last trip brought out from the East a magnificent bell, weighing over 3 000 pounds It was discharged yesterday, and will be forwarded to Portland, Oregon, where it will do duty in Trinity Church, in summoning the faithful to prayers etc It will be the largest bell in Webfootland when it reaches its destination" This large bell arrived on the Ajax, and will be hoisted to its proper place very soon As stated sometime ago, the metal of which this bell is composed was cast from some old copper guns manufactured at Seville Spain, over a century and a half ago This is the largest bell in the State, and was a present to Trinity Church parish from Hon Ben Stark

OLD MEMORIES REVIVED.—On Monday evening Col Orlando Taylor, of Yamhill county one of the old pioneers of the State, Hon J W Nesmith, of Polk and several other old Oregonians assembled at the American Exchange Hotel to hold a social meeting Several hours were spent in the most agreeable manner, enlivened by pleasant conversation Warmed into a convivial mood by the "spirits which make the heart merry," old stories connected with the earlier peopling of the State were told, old memories of the forgotten past were revived, associations dwelt upon and many a pleasant joke cracked After hours of pleasant converse the party broke up

DOWN AGAIN.—The Gov. Grover returned from up the river yesterday evening She arrived about half past 6 o'clock A large number of passengers came down and a full freight Very good time was made by the steamer, considering the rough weather Harrisburg was reached on Tuesday afternoon, and the steamer left that point on her return at 4 o'clock on the same day

BLOWN DOWN.—The damage committed by the heavy gales of yesterday appears to be much greater than was at first supposed Trees in many places were uprooted, fences torn down and railings around buildings prostrated The high plank fence enclosing the north side of the reservoir at the corner of Market and Fourth streets was also torn from its fastenings and leveled with the earth

ELECTED.—The I O Jolly Good Fellows at the last regular meeting, elected the following officers for the ensuing term J B Kelly W G S, M M Lucas W S S J W Sloan W J S, H S Stephenson, Secretary J M Fryer Treasurer F W Chambers G M J Williams B H G W Holcombe, O G J H Huey A M W H Butts, S H Sundman A G

AN ATTRACTIVE SKETCH.—A Mr Fry of Seattle, who is a great admirer of Crosbie the Comedian, is the author of a sketch representing Schneider and Sheridan's ride, which has a serious as well as a humorous expression depicted on it. The readers will better understand the picture when they look upon it in the window of Gray's Music Store

CONNECTING RODS.—Two large wooden connecting rods to be used on the new steamer Dayton, will be forwarded to the Dalles this morning These ponderous pieces of timber are thirty feet in length and weigh in the vicinity of 1 000 pounds each

RETIRED.—Mr P Fitzhugen who has been Secretary of the Willamet Iron Works for the last year or more, has retired from that position His successor is Mr W H Dodd brother of the President of the works C H Dodd of the firm of Hawley, Dodd & Co

MADE NO TRIPS.—No trips were made yesterday by the Stark street ferry, after 10 o'clock on the account of the violence of the gale and the rough water After waiting patiently some hours a number of teams and pedestrians were compelled to go to the lower ferry to cross

ADJOURNED MEETING.—There will be an adjourned meeting of the incorporators of The Home at the bank of Messrs Ladd & Tilton this day at 3 o'clock P M A prompt and full attendance is requested as business of importance is to be submitted for transaction

There is one locality in the city of Portland where business seems to concentrate no matter whether times are lively or dull and that locality is at J John & Co's 91 Front between Washington and Alder streets On Saturday the above firm received a fresh invoice of gentlemen a Seotch Suitings—Coats Pants and Vests As soon as their arrival was noised around a general rush for the emporium was made everybody being eager to get a last invisible scotch suit before they should be exhausted The run on John & Co's clothing bank was heavy nearly all day but the firm stood the pressure bravely had several suits left at a late hour in the evening, and will receive still at their marg next leasure If any one wishes to be convinced that Portland is not plucked out let them step into J John & Co's and do the rush

CHRISTENED OF THE STEAM SCOW.—Mr O H Clarke began to announce to the ladies of Portland that on Thursday April 3 he will open a large and varied assortment of Hats and Bonnets in the very latest spring styles 21 Washington street next door to Charles Henderson & Cook's

LARGE LIST.—The steamer Ajax which arrived here on Tuesday evening brought an unusually large list of passengers In addition to 560 tons of assorted cargo the steamer brought 2 cabin and 50 steerage passengers

BAD ACCIDENT.—The Waldron Troupe on a string of eight mombura, arrived yesterday in this city by the Kalama boat They returned over land from Victoria and the various Sound ports at which theatrical entertainments were given

Councilmen Story introduced a resolution reciting that the Police Judge received in salary and perquisites nearly $6 000 per annum and that the police department was costing the city at the rate of $25 000 per annum directing the Judiciary Committee to investigate and report at its early a day as practicable upon the expediency of reducing the compensation of that officer and directing the Committee on Health and Police to confer with the Police Commissioners as to the expediency of reducing the police force of the city and to confer with the Chief of Police as to the feasibility of making some reduction in the expense of boarding city prisoners

The motion having been seconded, Mr Story said he deemed it proper that he should say a few words explanatory of his reason for offering the resolution He recollected two years ago, when Judge Lewis retired from the office of Police Judge, he made an exhibit of the expenses of the Police Department of the city government, accompanied by the remark that that department was almost self sustaining and could be made entirely so by pursuing an advised course in its administration —making more city cases and less State cases It is easy to make a State case out of any disturbance of the peace of the city by calling the offence assault and battery which is crime against the State, instead of demgnating as a mere disturbance of the quiet of the city, which is only a violation of city ordinance The difference to the city is that in State cases the fines go into the county treasury, while in city cases the city treasury receives the fine The difference to the Police Judge is, that in city cases he gets no fees, while in State cases he takes the same fees as a Justice of the Peace is allowed in similar cases We all understand why it is that so large a proportion of the fines collected in the Police Court go into the County Treasury instead of that of the City Section 160 of the Charter distinctly declares that the Police Judge shall receive an annual salary not exceeding eighteen hundred dollars and shall receive no other compensation for his services but Section 173 as distinctly declares that the Police Judge shall when acting as a Justice of the Peace or enforcing the laws of the State, be entitled to tax the same fees and compensation as a Justice of the Peace for like services Now this is an inducement to put a liberal construction upon the subject and how easy to make up a paying State case Were it not for those peculiar provisions the fines which in many cases are paid to the County might go to swell the City Treasury

As to the police force he said that only two years ago the Department was self supporting Let us pass on one year The Charter Section 167 directs that the Board of Police Commissioners shall on the first day of January of each year report to the Common Council the estimated amount of salaries and other necessary expenses of the Police Department for the ensuing year and there upon the Council must make appropriations to meet the expenses of that Department etc. In accordance with these provisions we find the Commissioners in 1872 only one year from the time the Department was almost self sustaining asking for an appropriation of $15 000 And even this sum did not suffice for the year and transfers were made from the general fund swelling the amount to near $18 000 And the next year —January 1873—the Commissioners send us their requisition for $21 000 The estimated receipts to offset this large expense will be say $7 000 or $8 000 at the outside How much we shall have to transfer from the general fund to the police fund before the year expires to swell this already large amount no one can tell At the present rate of progress it is difficult to conjecture where we may be when 1874 comes in To cover the estimates already made for this year a levy of 2½ mills on the dollar upon all the property of the city has been necessary The taxpayers groan under burdens which, though already hard to bear are still increasing We have for all this twenty policemen besides special. But special or regular it is all the same to the taxpayers who have to pay for it all San Francisco with a population estimated at from 175 000 to 180 000 and a taxable property of nearly $296 000 000 supports one hundred policemen and four Captains Portland with no more than 12 000 population and an assessment roll showing little over $6 000 000 worth of property supports a police force about one fifth as large as that of San Francisco It is true that our city being much smaller than San Francisco, its government would from the very nature of things be somewhat more expensive population relatively considered but the disparity actually existing is greater than the circumstances of the case seem to justify That we have a very efficient police no one will deny The Board of Commissioners are honorable men and take great pride in seeing the service as nearly perfect as possible The Chief of Police is an efficient officer and the entire body of policemen are fine looking men and appear attentive to their duties We boast a police organization greatly superior to that of many large places but are we able in these hard times to support this luxury? That is the question the taxpayers are asking

The board of the city prisoners is now costing the city $600 per month on an average This makes $7 200 in the year, to make no allowance for increase The total city prisoners for San Francisco with its population fifteen times as great as ours, only amounts to $7 181 per year Ours will be larger than this for 1873, unless something be done to check its increase and to inaugurate a system of retrenchment

He trusted the proposed inquiry would be ordered, and that some way might be devised to relieve the people of the city from a portion of the burdens of heavy taxation

On motion the resolution was adopted

On motion the Council adjourned

OREGON DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

MORNING SESSION

The Society met pursuant to adjournment, March 31st, at the rooms of Drs Welch & Thompson, Dr J H Hatch President, in the chair

Dr Thompson moved that inasmuch as he was filling two offices namely, Recording and Corresponding Secretary, that the office of Recording Secretary be declared vacant and that a ballot be taken for an election

The motion prevailed and the ballot was taken

Dr J R Cardwell having received the highest vote was declared Recording Secretary for the ensuing year

On motion, Dr Thompson was invited to perform the clinic whereupon the Doctor proceeded to the chair and made a difficult contour filling for Dr Chance, which was done with superior skill, and much to the satisfaction of the Society In the operation Dr Thompson illustrated his manner of using the R D Carpenter engine and steel mallet

On motion the meeting adjourned until 8 o'clock P M

EVENING SESSION

Society met pursuant to adjournment, Dr Hatch in the chair

On motion Drs Chance Gray and Thompson were appointed a committee to draft by laws on the manner of becoming a member of this Society

Subsequently the committee reported upon the subject, substantially requiring that "any dentist wishing to become a member of this society shall apply in writing and a favorable vote of three fourths of the members present shall be necessary to elect to membership"

The report of the committee was adopted

Dr Skiff made some remarks upon the subject of professional fees and would like to hear from the others

He was followed by Drs Hatch, Gray, Glenn, Chance and Cardwell

The general view seemed to be favorable to first class work, leaving the matter of fees as a secondary consideration In order that an operator when he went to the chair, should not be influenced by the class of the operation in consequence of preconceived ideas respecting the compensation The Society wished to have the confidence of its patrons, and have a mutual understanding between the operator and the subject respecting the fee that the objects of this organization was for the benefit of one as much as the other

Dr Chance moved that the thanks of the Oregon State Dental Association are hereby tendered to Drs Welch & Thompson and Hatch for the use of rooms and other courtesies extended

On motion of Dr Gray Drs Hatch and Thompson were invited to operate in chair at Dr Skiff's office at the next meeting to be held in Salem on the last Wednesday of June, 1873

On motion the Association adjourned

Wake Up the System

When the physical energies droop and the mind becomes lethargic it may be taken for granted that the digestion is impaired and the liver derelict in its duty Upon the condition of the stomach and liver depend the condition of the blood and upon the quality of that fluid depends the vigor of the body and the capacity for brain labor It is therefore of the utmost importance to men engaged in active pursuits who are subject to attacks of bodily weakness and mental atony or to inflict power to know from what source they can obtain immediate and permanent relief The timely and judicious stimulating elements combined in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters peculiarly adapt that celebrated preparation to cases of this kind The rapidity with which it restores the powers of the muscular and nervous system is simply astonishing Acting first upon the digestive organs and through them upon the fluids of the body the bitters until their work is done, refreshes and regulates not only those vital powers but the mind itself As a fidelity as the smallest ailment and mental torpor or depression so often caused and where they already exist always aggravated by the damp and variable weather prevalent in the spring months persons of feeble constitution and weak nerves should go through a course of this agreeable stimulant at this season and indeed will derive great advantage from taking it at least once a day throughout the year

Abel Ben Adams

BY C. T. BRIDGES

Abel Ben Adams (that's never I'm
To mess himself and all his family)
Abel Ben Adams who, you'd better guess,
Had not one mite of unrighteousness—
On getting up one Sunday morning, found
The snow full five feet deep upon the ground
"We must be sitting in this thing," he said,
(For Abel Ben was public spirited)
The better day the better deed" said he
He went to work and pitched into the snow,
And in the space of half an hour or more
He had his sidewalk clean as any floor
But as he leans up on his shovel new
And wipes the perspiration from his brow
A grim faced deacon happens to pass by,
Who his best Adams with a scrunging eye.
What man, profane soth work the Sabbath day!
Have you no spark of godliness, I pray?
"I much to speak of, 'Abel Ben replied,
"But take in cleanliness a mighty pride"
"Have you no fear then of the Lord?" Said he,
"He serves the Lord who serves his fellow-men"
The deacon vanished, but that very night
An angel came arrayed in snowy white,
Where Abel Ben lay peacefully in bed,
And this to Abel in the angel said:
"I come" he said, "commited not to regret
The good and loyal servants of the Lord."
Exceeding joyed had made Ben Adams bold
He said "I am not in the church enrolled"
The angel smiled upon the simple soul
And from his bosom drew a shining roll—
The names of those who served the Lord the best—
And lo! Ben Adams' name led all the rest!

Senator Casserly and the Bribery Charges.

HOW THE CHARGES OF CORRUPTION WERE HORNED UP AT WASHINGTON.

A New York despatch of March 27th has the annexed.

The Tribune's Washington special to-day gives a remarkable statement, apparently intended to create the impression that the Central Pacific Railroad Company's attorneys, instead of stimulating the bribery charges in connection with Casserly's election, as heretofore supposed, have in fact labored to stop the charges to that effect which appeared in the Washington Republican. The motive inferred from this would seem to be the fear that any investigation into the relations between the Central Pacific Company and Congressmen, instead of damaging Casserly, would destroy those Senators and Representatives whose constant devotion to the monopoly's interest is notorious.

The Tribune's special says "It will be remembered that the Wilson Credit Mobilier Committee learned almost nothing of the history or management of the Central Pacific Road. Fortunately for that corporation, all its books and papers, and nearly all its officers, were on the other side of the continent, where they could not be reached before expiration of Congress. Huntington, the Vice-President of the Road and its chief manager, with the exception of its Washington lobbyist, who for a salary of $20,000 a year watches the interests of the Company here, was the only important witness examined. Senators and Representatives who are believed to be in the employment of this Company or of the Bank of California, were in no way publicly connected with the few developments made, and they are supposed to have breathed freely for the first time since the committee was raised, when Congress adjourned on the 4th of March, but on the 15th of this month the National Republican, which had been smarting all winter under the scandals that have brought reproach upon the Administration party, and which it has been bound to defend, opened furiously on Casserly, accusing him of having been elected to the Senate by the aid of the Bank of California, which, it is said, paid the large sum of $175,000 for that purpose. Without stopping to inquire in regard to the truth or falsity of these charges, it will be seen how natural it would be for the Administration party to seize upon this opportunity to divide the odium of corruption which it has had to bear this winter almost alone. The only circumstance that would stand in the way of an investigation in this case would be the knowledge that Administration Senators would be involved if the relations of the Bank of California and of the Central Pacific Company with members of Congress were published. Whether such knowledge existed, may be conjectured from the action of some of the Pacific Coast Senators immediately after the publication referred to. The ink on the paper which contained the first article about Casserly's election was hardly dry, before the editor is reported to have received a visit from Senators Stewart and Sargent, who urged him to drop the subject at once. What arguments they used it is not known, but they were not sufficiently strong to convince the editor that it would be unwise to make political capital out of the case, for having failed to get from him a promise to print nothing more about the matter, they went to the Navy Department for reinforcements. It will be remembered that during the investigation in 1872 into Secretary Robeson's official conduct, Sargent was much of the time acting Chairman of the special committee, and was indefatigable in his efforts to clear the Secretary. For these services the Secretary ought to be grateful, and it was not therefore surprising that he should, soon after call upon the editor upon the same business that had brought Sargent and Stewart to his office. Robeson, so the report goes, was no more successful than the Senators had been, and on the next morning the paper appeared with another attack on Casserly, fiercer than before, and making charges still more direct. The time had come for heroic treatment. If this editor was allowed to go on, he would have a new investigation on foot before the Caldwell case could be disposed of, and the Senate adjourn. The Morton Committee had shown its skill in finding out corruption. Something had to be done. The Senate and Cabinet were unable to stop this talk concerning a political opponent; but there is a power that is greater than either with the party organization—that is, the Chief Executive. This power must have been invoked, for the proprietors of the Republican have been invited to the White House. No reference to the matter has since appeared, and Casserly has continued to treat the whole thing with silent contempt."

Here is a temperance lecture from the scaffold, preached by George Driver, an Illinois murderer, who was hanged for the murder of his wife; a few days since:

"I haven't very much to say, Mr. Sheriff, but will remark before I go that I hope ye all here before me see where I am standing now. 'Twas drinking whisky brought me to this. Only for it I wouldn't be in this place now. Do ye see this rope, all of ye around me here?" The doomed man caught the noose in his hand and held it up. "Ye do well when ye drink that bad whisky to think of this rope that is going to end my life." This apostrophe pro'uced evident sensation among the auditors; many blanched faces were visible, and the coolness of the poor fellow won the respect of all present. "In five minutes I'll be where none of us can tell where. We can only say to frantic the goodness of God. In Him I put my trust this day. Give up drinking whisky, young men, and all of ye. Give it up, or, 'twill bring ye to hart some day. Be sober, and be good to your wives and kind to everybody Whisky will make the best man mad. I had as good a wife as any of ye han now, and if I hadn't been drunk I'd never have taken her life, nor would I be here myself. But whisky, I say it again, whisky brought me to this. I had that pistol in my pocket, and when she enraged me I caught it in my right hand. In changing it to my left it went off and shot her. It was the poisonous drink that was in me that did not let me see what I was doing. O, avoid liquor, let me say to you once more That day when I shot my wife I didn't know what I was doing until the thing was over Then it occurred to me that I might have hurt the poor thing, and came back, and the constable told me what I had done, and he arrested me for it. My last words are to ye all, look at my position standing on the gallows, let it be a warning to every one to keep from getting in the same trouble and meeting the same bad end. May God in his mercy receive my soul."

A recent dispatch from New York gives the following additional information concerning the great Bank of England forgery

Letters from London state that William E. Gray, the notorious perpetrator of the Wall street forgeries to the amount of $,000,000 in 1869, is probably one of the chief conspirators in the recent forgeries on the Bank of England Gray, it will be remembered, is a son of ex Chaplain Gray of the United States Senate. He formerly held office in Washington and is one of the most expert forgers known.

A HOTEL INCIDENT.—A newly married couple of quite genteel appearance, were guests at the Willard Hotel on Monday night. The young bridegroom was naturally a little nervous in his new position, and yesterday morning, when the bride in making her toilet, couldn't find the comb and brush, and the husband was sent post-haste to the office, he walked briskly up to the counter and hurriedly instructed the clerk to "send his wife the curry comb and brush."

The clerk with an air of gravity, quietly replied

"My friend, we don't keep any curry-combs in the house You'll have to go to the stable"

The gentleman looked hastily at the clerk indignantly at first, then half vexed, half amused, a humorous gleam twinkled in his eye and finally he broke out in a ripple of laughter, which was heartily participated in by the official.

The young groom then made known his real wants, and, having procured the articles, returned to his waiting wife, to whom he was obliged to relate the cause of the delay.

"Luther," said the husband, "he must have thought you the gray mare which, according to the old story is the better horse, for that I was——"

"An ass, and needed the curry-comb yourself," quietly added the lady.

The Boston Advertiser mentions a queer little incident bearing on the purity of Florida politicians. It says:

A curious case has come to the attention of some of the members of the Senate. A New England politician of means actually held a consultation with a member of Congress of high standing just before the late Senatorial election in Florida, to ascertain whether the vigorous course which Senator Morton had pursued in the Caldwell investigation was likely to be continued. His reason of asking was that he had been assured from Florida that he could come down there and for a certain large num of money rendor his election to the United States Senate certain. He had hesitated about going until he could learn whether the Senate was likely to look with favor upon Mr. Morton's thoroughness. He was advised by the Congressman whom he consulted not to risk it, whereupon he declined.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 2, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 117¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 86 buying; 87 selling

Gold bars are quotable at 900 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 11s 4d@11s 6d; club 11s 8d@12s.

The price of Gold in New York has again risen to 117¾ and following the invariable experience of the last eight years, it may continue to rise up to September, the more so that the new Secretary has avowed his determination to issue more legal tender as his necessities require. The amount of legal tender outstanding, and the price of gold has been as follows:

	Notes out.	Price Gold.
April, 1865	$403,109,560	160
June, 1865	428,831,358	161
October, 1866	391,196,785	134
July, 1867	371 992,029	142
November, 1867	364,104,544	141
October, 1872	356,000,000	115
November, 1872	356,556,764	115
March, 1873	356,054,302	116

Congress, April 12, 1866, directed the Secretary not to reduce the legal tender more than $4,000,000 per month, but the system of contraction was pursued to that extent up to 1867, when further contraction was stopped The effect of reducing the legal tender was to reduce the price of gold from about 160 to 115. The Secretary now claims the right to release the notes then called in, and gold has resumed its upward movement.

Opposition to San Francisco.

It was mentioned some time since that Col. Jos. Teal had gone east to arrange for new steamers to run between this city and San Francisco It is now said that telegraphic dispatches have been received stating that the desired arrangements have been made, and that the engaged steamers will speedily be put upon the line and give new impetus to trade in that direction We trust this report is correct, feeling assured that the result would be most beneficial to the interests of our city and State at large

Slow Freighting.

Referring to the delays on the short routes between New York and San Francisco, the Shipping List says a change is imperatively necessary, or merchants in both cities will accommodate their business on the basis of the Cape route. Formerly, it was an easy matter to get goods through by the steamship line in 25 to 35 days Now, nothing is received in less than 45 days, and sometimes 60 and 90 days are consumed. Upon the completion of the railroad, we were told that goods would be sent through in 15 to 16 days This is rarely ever done; but the fact that it can be done, is evidence enough that it ought to be done. More commonly the time exceeds 20 days, and not unfrequently from 40 to 50 days elapse between the shipment and receipt of goods. To call 40 and 45 days good time for freight between New York and San Francisco, is simply a libel on the power of steam. Merchants demand that better time shall be made both on the part of the steamers and cars, or they will throw the bulk of their business in favor of the ships The remedy for this state of things, as suggested by the Shipping List, is the inauguration of a through line by rail, for freight exclusively, between New York and San Francisco, the several companies contributing to the general stock a sufficient number of freight cars to do the traffic, the cars to run through without breaking bulk. We believe the idea is a feasible one, and if found practicable, should be adopted without delay. The trip could be made in 12 or 13 days.

Facts About Wheat

The stock of spring Wheat in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and adjacent States is from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels, much of which will soon be moving toward the seaboard, and eventually to England. Considerable will yet be shipped from the Pacific coast. France and Germany are tolerably well supplied, and Russia will soon be an active exporter. All these events point to a low range of prices in England during the spring months, which will be further facilitated by the advance in the Bank of England discount rates

It is estimated that there are 100,000 tons of Wheat in California for export to-day. There is enough tonnage in port at San Francisco under engagement to carry one-third of this quantity, and there is fully 50,000 tons of Wheat under the control of exporters This leaves comparatively little for which to provide tonnage.

At the beginning of the present current year in England, say September 1st, it was estimated that the bread waste of the country would require the importation of 11,000,000 qrs Wheat, or, in the event of an early harvest next summer, 9,000,000 qrs The result for the first six months of the year ending March 1st, shows the importation of 7,000,000 qrs, without adding over 1,000,000 qrs to the stock From this it will be seen that the consumption for the six months has been 6,000 000 qrs, and will not probably be any less for the next six months This would make it necessary to import 5,000,000 qrs up to September 1, 1873 One-sixth of the this quantity will be supplied by California and Oregon

The Mark Lane Express, of March 3, says "The very heavy fall of snow on Monday, though perhaps serviceable to the Wheat planted, has completely stopped further pr gress in field labor The upward movement in France has continued in spite of our unfavorable reports, and with the late rise there they may come into competition with ourselves as buyers of cargoes from California, for prices there have rather receded. London has reason to expect only small supplies of home produce, and millers here must be dependent upon foreign arrivals for good samples, which as yet arriving freely up on large stocks, no immediate rise can be expected from a merely consumptive demand Hereafter, though money is cheap enough, there is not now, as in former times, any fall sufficiently heavy to induce speculative investment, and a log trot trade and equalization of prices arise out of this state of things not so interesting to dealers as advantageous to the public

Miscellaneous.

The net earnings of the London and San Francisco Bank last year, as we learn from the London Economist, amounted to £126,871, from which a dividend of 12 per cent was paid, £50,000 added to the reserve fund, raising it to £200,000, and £2,792 carried forward.

We notice in a San Francisco exchange, "Oatmeal from Oregon quotable as a very superior article at 5½@6½ ₱ lb."

About 100,000 lbs of choice roll Butter were sent East by rail from San Francisco during the month of March.

New York and Boston mercantile agencies have published annual statements of failures during 1872 from which it appears that the number was 4,069, aggregating $121,056,000, against 2,915 in 1871, representing a combined value of $85,252 000, showing a decided increase, which is attributed to the disastrous conflagrations in Chicago and Boston.

Carefully prepared calculations show that the whole coffee production available in Brazil, for the next 10 months is 12,300 000 bags, which is very far below the needs of the world, the United States alone consuming 100 000 bags a month

Some idea of the commercial greatness of Antwerp in Belgium, may be gathered from the fact that its Common Council has just voted $40,000,000 for the construction of docks and piers

The total assessed value of property in California is $540,000,612 San Francisco is down for forty five per cent of it, and don't quite know whether to rejoice in its prosperity, or to lament the exposure consequent upon it

Extensive sponge beds have been found at La Jolla, on the San Diego coast. Most of the sponges of commerce is procured from the Mediterranean Sea, more especially about the Islands of the Archipelago and in the Levant The new discovery in California will no doubt be of importance to commerce

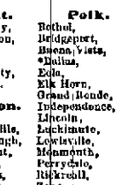
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyments of life In the horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies ere that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest the city, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by thousands of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing the following certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, nervousness, sudden flushes of heat, weakness of the limbs, confused ideas, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence to approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

HAIRED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred, responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co.; a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary one of the solid-gold doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in right cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultation FREE!

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian 17d4ptp
